

Proposed New-Build Homes (Buyer Protection) (Scotland) Bill

Introduction

A proposal for a Bill to establish standard missives for the sale of new-build homes, including redress for purchasers in respect of defects in construction. The consultation runs from 5 April 2019 to 27 June 2019. All those wishing to respond to the consultation are strongly encouraged to enter their responses electronically through this survey. This makes collation of responses much simpler and quicker. However, the option also exists of sending in a separate response (in hard copy or by other electronic means such as e-mail), and details of how to do so are included in the member's consultation document. Questions marked with an asterisk (*) require an answer. All responses must include a name and contact details. Names will only be published if you give us permission, and contact details are never published – but we may use them to contact you if there is a query about your response. If you do not include a name and/or contact details, we may have to disregard your response. Please note that you must complete the survey in order for your response to be accepted. If you don't wish to complete the survey in a single session, you can choose "Save and Continue later" at any point. Whilst you have the option to skip particular questions, you must continue to the end of the survey and press "Submit" to have your response fully recorded. Please ensure you have read the consultation document before responding to any of the questions that follow. In particular, you should read the information contained in the document about how your response will be handled. The consultation document is available here: Consultation document Privacy Notice

I confirm that I have read and understood the Privacy Notice attached to this consultation which explains how my personal data will be used

Aim and Approach

Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of establishing statutory standardised clauses for builders' missives?

Partially supportive

Please explain the reasons for your response.

The use of standardised clauses for missives makes good sense however there should be the flexibility to deal with site/building specific issues.

Q2. Which of the following best expresses your view of providing a statutory route for home buyers to obtain redress for major failings on new-build property?

Fully supportive

Please explain the reasons for your response

It is important for new build property buyers to be confident that they are able to seek redress for faults. The introduction of a statutory protection should also ensure the market in new build property works as it should.

Q3. What do you think would be the main practical advantages and disadvantages of the proposed Bill?

The statutory provisions should make the process of seeking resolution simple and not add significant burdens on either the purchaser or the builder/developer.

Q4. What length of time do you think is most appropriate for a builder's warranty for a new-build home?

Other (please specify)

Q4. What length of time do you think is most appropriate for a builder's warranty for a new-build home?

Please explain the reasons for your response.

It would make good sense to at least match the NHBC voluntary scheme currently in place and therefore it would be appropriate to have the warranty set at 10 years for issues including foundations, walls and drainage etc.

Q5. Which of the following best describes your view of having standard missives that provide a right for buyers to carry out a full survey of the property within a specified period, and a right to pull out of the purchase if severe or very serious defects are discovered?

Partially supportive

Please explain the reasons for your response

Until the definition of severe or serious defects are provided it is not possible to confirm complete support.

Q6. If you have bought a new-build home in the past, please tell me about your experience, taking care not to name individuals/companies or the location of the property/development.

N/A

Financial Implications

Q7. Taking account of both costs and potential savings, what financial impact would you expect the proposed Bill to have on:

	Significant increase in cost	Some increase in cost	Broadly cost-neutral	Some reduction in cost	Significant reduction in cost	Unsure
Government and the public sector		X
Businesses (including housebuilders)		X
Individuals (including new-build house buyers)		X

Please explain the reasons for your response.

The supervision and provision of assistance to buyers is likely to have some impact on costs for public authorities.

Equalities

Q8. What overall impact is the proposed Bill likely to have on equality, taking account of the following protected characteristics (under the Equality Act 2010): age, disability, gender re-assignment, maternity and pregnancy, marriage and civil partnership, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation?

Neutral (neither positive nor negative)

Sustainability

Q9. Do you consider that the proposed Bill can be delivered sustainably, i.e. without having likely future disproportionate economic, social and/or environmental impacts?

Yes

General

Q10. Do you have any other comments or suggestions on the proposal?

None.
